TEASER CONCEPTS:

SNOWFALL

Open on Franklin sitting alone on a train. The train is moving forward but Franklin's seat is facing the opposite direction so it looks like he's going backwards. The train comes out of a tunnel and into the light. Everything seems fine when the train screeches, metal on metal SFX, and lurches to a sudden stop. Cut to: Franklin descending the steps of the train to see there are no more tracks. With stylized treatment and coloring the lines of reality and dream will be blurred.

THE END OF THE LINE - SNOWFALL

THE STUDIO

(Open on the back of a man sitting in director's chair.)

Man's inner monologue VO:

I got nothing to worry about – I've done this before.

I directed a scene in acting class, once. She said I was good.

(beat)

Wait...was that teacher friends with my mom?

(wide shot revealing Seth Rogan looking tiny in HUGE director's chair)

Oh, f%$ck!
